A YEAR WITH UNIQUE CHALLENGES

In our 20+ years of operation, we've encountered numerous challenges, but none as daunting as today's landscape. With a surge in shelter euthanizations and an alarming rise in abandoned dogs, our community faces an unprecedented crisis of overcrowding. Since the onset of the pandemic, the demand for dogs has skyrocketed, leading to a surge in backyard breeding, while access to spaying and neutering services has dwindled. As a result, we now confront a surplus of untrained and unsocialized dogs, overwhelming shelters beyond capacity and prompting widespread abandonment. In these dire times, our mission of rescuing and rehoming dogs at risk has never been more vital.

WE COULDN'T HAVE DONE IT WITHOUT YOUR GENEROUS SUPPORT.

Critical to our mission's success is the steadfast support and dedication of our community, volunteers, fosters, adopters, and donors. Their unwavering commitment enables us to rescue German Shepherds facing euthanasia, finding homes where they can thrive, and enriching countless lives in the process.

THANK YOU TO ALL OUR DONORS AND VOLUNTEERS.
